Rem Announces New Sales Manager Scheible to Lead North American Sales Team

Rem Enterprises, Swift Current, Saskatchewan, welcomes Doug Scheible to the management team as Sales Manager for the company's GrainVac and Delta product lines in North America.

Doug brings twenty-plus years in the grain storage, handling and transportation industry. His specialized knowledge and leadership experience in manufacturing and sales throughout the heartland of America enhances Rem's team approach to customer satisfaction.

Rem owner Bob Sonntag feels that Doug possesses a blend of skills and attitude that correspond with the company's core values and goals. "I don't think that my goal is for the company to get bigger and bigger, rather I want to get better and better, says Sonntag. "I want to build products that are bullet proof and trouble free in the field. Also, I want to continuously increase our customer satisfaction by continuing to improve our products and services."

Doug will be headquartered in Rem's Shenandoah, Iowa facility and will travel extensively in both Canada and the U.S. to augment the company's business relationships.
