New retail program through Versatile Finance

WINNIPEG, MB (December 1, 2008) – Versatile today announced that farmers will have new finance options available when purchasing Versatile tractors. Versatile Finance programs are now available, supported by Agricredit Acceptance LLC. Agricredit has almost sixty years of serving the agricultural equipment industry with effective finance options.

In the past there were no programs for Versatile tractors, meaning farmers had to secure financing through a financial institution or make purchases with a line of credit. Often there were no preferential rates or incentives but with Versatile Finance farmers may have access to special interest rates and lease programs.

The current global credit climate combined with the cyclical business of farming makes the launch of Versatile Finance very timely. This gives farmers another option when balancing the equipment needs of the farming operation with the necessity of maintaining cash flow.

Special programs and offers will be available on www.versatile-ag.com and will be updated regularly.
